ANNA REILLY

Senior Analyst

As a Senior Analyst at Impact Engine, Anna closely supports our funds, directs, and pipeline teams, including but not limited to sourcing, conducting due diligence, and supporting portfolio management.

Prior to joining Impact Engine, Anna spent two years as a Teach for America Corps Member in Nashville, where she focused on teaching foundational reading skills to disadvantaged students. Anna started her career as an Investment Banking Analyst at Moelis & Company, where she gained exposure to the healthcare, technology, and consumer industries while developing financial models, creating management presentations, and participating in due diligence for sell-side M&A, restructuring, and capital raise deals.

Anna holds a BA in Public Policy Analysis from Duke University and an MEd in Instructional Practice from Lipscomb University.
