

Impact Engine is an institutional investor managing venture capital and private equity strategies that drive positive impact in the areas of economic opportunity, environmental sustainability, and health equity.

MAGGIE STOHLER

Senior Associate, Investor Relations

As Senior Associate of Investor Relations at Impact Engine, Maggie works closely with the CEO to support our existing and prospective investors.

This is Maggie's second tenure at Impact Engine, having successfully served as our Communications Associate from 2016-2018. Prior to 2016, she was the Partnerships and Engagement Manager at the Institute of Politics at the University of Chicago.

Most recently, after leaving Impact Engine, Maggie played an integral role in building two new impact investing organizations: Higher Ground Labs, an accelerator for political technology startups, and the Catholic Impact Investing Collaborative, an institutional investor network promoting impact investing in alignment with principles of Catholic social & environmental justice.

Maggie holds a BA in International Relations from the University of Delaware.
